Report of the Director

OVERVIEW

It is with great pride that I report on the progress and achievements of the past year. Alabama's public libraries are demonstrating every year that they are viable community information centers through their increasing diversity of services.

A library is more than books. It is a hub of community action. The public library is a place where one can learn, obtain information, be entertained, improve job skills and now, gain access to the computer world. A public library touches more lives than any other service offered anywhere.

The Alabama Public Library Service is proud of its leadership role and the cooperation extended to other state agencies. We remain committed to expanding and improving programs and services to both public libraries and state government.

It is the mission of the Alabama Public Library Service to insure the best library service possible for Alabama's citizens. Achieving this necessitates aggressive local libraries since it is through the local public library that most people first seek information. By statute, the primary objective of APLS is the development of a cooperative system of providing books and library services for the various municipalities and counties of the state.

There has been great progress made in the area of library cooperation and many other accomplishments for which Alabama's libraries can well be proud. Much of this is attributable to the dedication of the librarians and other citizens who work in Alabama's libraries and serve on local boards of trustees.

AWARDS AND ACHIEVEMENTS

It has been a very special and rewarding year for the Alabama Public Library Service. Our professional colleagues have bestowed numerous honors and awards on those individuals who contributed creativity and manpower, often beyond their job requirements. We take great pleasure in sharing these accolades with the organizations who sponsored programs with us.

John Cotton Dana Award

The American Library Association presented its annual John Cotton Dana award for excellence in public relations for the program, "Illiteracy. We Can't Afford It." In naming the literacy program for the award, the judges cited it as "an effective multimedia campaign to combat illiteracy by enlisting community support." The Alabama Public Library Service and the State Department of Education cooperatively sponsored "Illiteracy. We Can't Afford It" and APLS was honored that the national association chose it for an award.

ALAPCAC Award

The Alabama Public Library Service was presented the 1981 Alabama Association for Public Continuing Adult Education Outstanding Contributor Award for our efforts to combat illiteracy. The Award was presented to Anthony W. Miele, on behalf of the Association, for the "Illiteracy. We Can't Afford It" program.

Alabama Environmental Quality Association Award

The Alabama Environmental Quality Association named the Alabama Public Library Service as its 1981 First Place Winner in the state government category for "Alabama, Energy and The Way We Live," because the program demonstrated "a statewide effort to achieve awareness for a better Alabama through a better quality of life." The Humanities Resource Center coordinated the program which was cooperatively sponsored by the Alabama Public Library Service, the Alabama Committee for the Humanities, and the Environmental and Energy Education Center at the University of Montevallo. Also assisting with the program were the public libraries in Birmingham, Dothan, Huntsville and Sylacauga.

Trustee Citation

Kay Vowvalidis, member of the Alabama Public Library Service Executive Board, was awarded the 1981 Trustee Citation by the American Library Association. Her selection for "distinguished service to library development" recognized her dedication on behalf of the Choctawhatchee Regional Library headquartered in Ozark, her service as a member of the APLS Executive Board, her representation of Alabama at the White House Conference on Libraries and Information Services, and her representation of the Southeast in the American Library Trustee Association. We were pleased that the American Library Association acknowledged Mrs. Vowvalidis' untiring efforts to achieve adequate libraries in Alabama.

Literacy Award

The American Library Trustee Association named Sam H. Hughston, a former trustee of the Jackson Public Library, as the recipient of the Literacy Award for his contribution to the "Illiteracy. We Can't Afford It" program. Hughston, whose distinguished background of public library service led to his appointment to the APLS Executive Board, was instrumental in organizing the statewide literacy project.

Helen Keller Statue

It was with a great deal of pride that APLS unveiled a lifesize statue of Helen Keller at age nine reading one of her favorite books, Charles Lamb's Tales from Shakespeare. Funding for the statue was underwritten by the Kiwanis Clubs of Alabama to commemorate Miss Keller's contribution to disabled people throughout the world. Sculpted by Clydetta Fulmer, the statue was dedicated by former Governor George Wallace and is housed in the APLS Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped.

Congressional Invitation

At the invitation of Congressman Paul Simon (D, IL), the Alabama Public Library Service Director, Anthony W. Miele, was invited to testify before the U. S. House Postsecondary Education Subcommittee. Mr. Miele testified regarding the impact of LSCA monies on libraries, both nationally and within the State of Alabama. In his remarks, Miele noted that "Information is a neglected national resource necessary for decision-making, for economic development and for the creation of new knowledge. LSCA created a partnership among federal, state and local governments to overcome inadequate library and information resources. Federal commitment to that partnership will determine the success of America's management and efficient distribution of information for economic development."

LIBRARY COOPERATION

In 1981, the Alabama Public Library Service awarded two grants to establish demonstration projects for multitype library cooperation. The two pilot projects are modeled on the governance structure first proposed in the 1978 report, A Study of the Organization and Governance for Alabama State Library Systems, and will test its feasibility as a mechanism for improving library and information services. Together, the two projects serve eighteen counties with 102 public, junior college, university, school and special libraries as members.

Project objectives for both systems in this fiscal year included organizing the Board, employing the coordinator, appointing advisory committees from participating libraries, and beginning the planning activities necessary for program implementation.

Alabama Library Exchange

The Alabama Library Exchange, serving libraries in DeKalb, Etowah, Jackson, Lawrence, Limestone, Madison, Marshall, and Morgan counties, was organized by representatives of public, academic and special libraries. The Board of Trustees, elected from representatives at the District Assembly, includes:

Harold Herring - Huntsville-Madison County Public Library
William A. Owens - Wheeler Basin Regional Library
Anna Ruth Campbell - Northwest State Junior College
Edward S. Johnson - Alabama A & M University
Richard Hartman - RSIC/NASA Library

Lee Pike, formerly with the Evergreen (Co.) Public Library, was employed as the ALEX coordinator.

Pioneer Alabama Library System

The Pioneer Alabama Library System was organized by public, academic, school and special libraries in Colbert, Fayette, Franklin, Lamar, Lauderdale, Marion, Pickens, Tuscaloosa, Walker and Winston counties. The Board of Trustees includes:

Boyce Albright - Haleyville City Schools
Herbert Harris - Muscle Shoals Regional Library
Joe McCluney - Carl Elliott Regional Library
Ernie Eliott - Franklin County Schools
Earl Evans - Tennessee Valley Authority
Roger Handley - Brewer State Junior College
Malcolm Portera - University of Alabama

The coordinator of PALS is Joe Acker, formerly of the Brewer State Junior College.

Governor's Study Committee

On May 1, 1981, the Governor's Study Committee on Library Cooperation completed its review of library cooperation and adopted a final report. The Governor's Study Committee was appointed by Governor James on December 5, 1979, to fulfill a resolution of the Alabama Governor's Conference on Library and Information Services. Resolution Eight charged the committee with identifying areas of cooperation and recommending cooperation efforts that would be needed in Alabama. The Alabama Public Library Service provided financial and staff support for the Committee's deliberations and will be publishing the full report. The executive summary notes that the Committee:

1. Endorses the 1979 White House Conference on Library and Information Services resolutions on networking and library cooperation as appropriate guides for action in Alabama.
2. Supports the monitoring of the two multitype library cooperation demonstration projects and encourages evaluation after two years of operation to assess their feasibility as appropriate models for library cooperation in the state.
3. Embraces the following principles as basic assumptions for any plan of formal library cooperation:
   - -formal library cooperation is desirable
   - -funding for cooperation should be in addition to current library funding
   - -participation should be voluntary
   - -participants in cooperative activities should retain their autonomy
   - -representation should include lay citizens as well as librarians in the governance of cooperatives.
4. Supports the change of the name of the Alabama Public Library Service to the State Library of Alabama.
5. Supports a comprehensive effort to inform the public about the benefits of library cooperation.
6. Petitions Governor James to include support of library cooperation as part of his "War on Illiteracy."

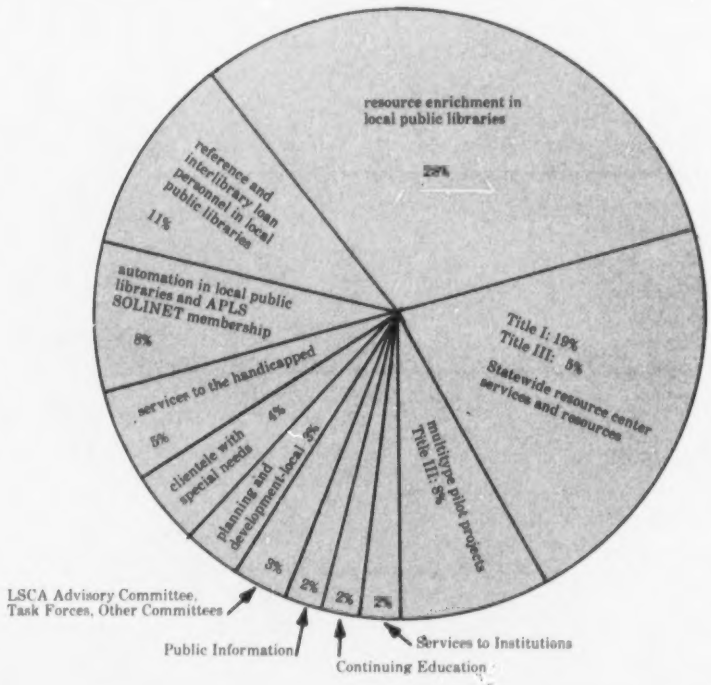
LIBRARY FUNDING

State Aid

Proration in state funding reduced the amount of state aid available for public library services from 45¢ to 43¢ per capita. A total of $1,603,379 was awarded to public libraries to supplement local funds for library resources and services. This amounted to 9% of the local library's budget. State aid to public libraries is an important state contribution toward insuring that all residents of the state have an equal access to the information resources in Alabama. Libraries rely on state aid for a variety of programs such as outreach to the homebound, services to rural communities, bookmobile, and books-by-mail programs to extend services to the geographically isolated, and, of course, the purchase of books to meet the state's growing information needs.

LSCA Funds

Federal funds for library programs continue to play an important part in the development of adequate library services. Funds from the Library Services and Construction Act awarded to Alabama in Fiscal Year 1981 totaled $1,278,313. Under the provisions of the law, LSCA was spent for interlibrary cooperation; service to the disadvantaged, unserved, institutionalized, handicapped and other special groups; library programs and services in local public libraries; and statewide programs such as continuing education and ALICAT, the statewide union catalog. The largest expenditure, for books and resources in local public libraries, included grants for collection development made in the regular grant cycle and a per capita distribution of funds which were released late in the year by the federal government. Collection development grants required matching funds from local appropriations and the addition of the holding record to ALICAT, the statewide union catalog data base. The per capita grants were distributed at 5¢



EXPENDITURES FROM THE FISCAL YEAR 1981 LSCA APPROPRIATIONS

Title I: Public Library Services

Title III: Interlibrary cooperation

per capita to all public libraries eligible to receive LSCA funds.

LSCA funds for statewide resource center services provide the services of the Alabama Library Information Network (ALIN) purchase materials in support of interlibrary loan, and includes funds for 16mm films which are made available to all public libraries for their programs and users.

Eight Reference and Interlibrary Loan Personnel grants provide an important link in the statewide interlibrary network. These awards to regional libraries enable them to provide services to all libraries within their geographical service area. The RILL librarians provide reference and interlibrary loan assistance as well as assistance in collection development and continuing education.

With the assistance of LSCA funding, work continues towards building a machine-readable database and creating a means for computerized links between libraries. Automation projects in libraries are valuable first stages in building the database which will form the framework for networking among all types of libraries. ALICAT is one product of automation that has greatly increased the accessibility to information for all Alabama residents.

Services to the handicapped, to the institutionalized, and to clientele with special needs, such as the non-English speaking, migrants, aging, or the illiterate, are also funded from LSCA. The costs of providing these special services often exceed the ability of local library funds and federal funds enable libraries to provide supplementary services to these groups.

Title III funds, which must be spent on interlibrary cooperation, were awarded for multitype library cooperation projects and statewide network services. They support activities in which libraries of all types cooperate and enable the statewide network to offer reference and interlibrary loan services without charge to borrowers.

ARC Grants

The Appalachian Regional Commission, through the Alabama Development Office, awarded two library construction grants to Alabama. The City of Leeds received $44,934 to renovate a building for the Leeds Public Library. The Brent-Centreville Public Library was awarded $300,000 for a new building. Renovation is underway in Leeds with dedication planned for early 1982; groundbreaking for the Brent-Centreville Library will take place in early 1982. Mini-vans, purchased with funds awarded by ARC in the last fiscal year, began operation in Horseshoe Bend Region, Cheaha Region, DeKalb County, Huntsville-Madison County, Northwest Region, Wheeler Basin Region, Carl Elliott Region, Birmingham-Jefferson County, Tuscaloosa County and Muscle Shoals Region.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

Continuing library education programs represent a strong commitment on the part of the Alabama Public Library Service.

Conferences

The annual Trustees Conference was again cosponsored by APLS, the Alabama Library Association Friends and Trustee Division and the Auburn University Office of Continuing Education. Trustees, library directors, and Friends, convened at the Auburn campus to review Public Libraries in the Governmental Process. A presentation by Representative Pete Turnham, Chairman of the House Education Committee, on "Governmental Process at the State Level: Funding and Decision-Making in the 1980's" highlighted the conference.

The Conference on Administrative Concerns provided library directors with additional training in management techniques for public service agencies. Speakers and group leaders explored the realities of administration, supervision and leadership, communication skills, stress management, and community relations.

Workshops

APLS and the Committee for the Humanities in Alabama cosponsored a one-day workshop on Alternative Funding for Public Libraries. Librarians reviewed fundamentals of program development, grant writing and application, and identifying potential sources of funds.

Storytelling and Puppetry, with Jackie Torrance and Nancy Renfroe, explored the effective use of these techniques in public library programs for children. Literacy Workshops, conducted under the "Illiteracy: We Can't Afford It" program, continued to be offered jointly by APLS and the State Department of Education.

Scholarships

The parttime scholarship program awarded six grants to employees in Alabama's public libraries to pursue a Master's Degree in Library Science. Recipients of the scholarships continue to work in the public libraries while studying for their Master's Degree.

CHILDREN AND YOUNG ADULT SERVICES

1981 was the first fiscal year in which APLS had on its staff a full-time consultant for Children and Young Adult Services.

Summer Reading Program

The 1981 Summer Reading Program theme, Circus Magic, was suggested and partially developed by the Jefferson County Librarians. Packets containing promotional materials and bibliographies were prepared and distributed by APLS to public libraries for use in the local reading programs. Nearly 23,000 children in grades one through six participated. To insure that handicapped children could participate, APLS promoted Circus Magic at the School for the Blind and Deaf at Talladega, and prepared all materials in braille copy.

Book Examination Evaluation Center

A center for Book Examination Evaluation was created to insure that librarians would have an opportunity to review the latest publications for children and young adults. During the fiscal year, APLS received 1,600 review books from various publishers. These books were sent at no cost to APLS and were valued at $12,034. Librarians from throughout the state meet at APLS to review titles and examine new books for possible addition to their library collections.

Lois Lenski Covey Foundation

The Lois Lenski Covey Foundation selected APLS to receive its collection of all children and young adult books published in 1978 and deposited with the Children's Book Council. The Foundation purchases these books from the Council and donates them to areas in need of children's materials. The gift was divided into six collections and given to Ashland-Clay County Library, Arab Public Library, Columbiana Public Library, Eufaula Public Library, Jasper Public Library and Jackson Public Library to assist them in developing a core collection of children's books. The Lois Lenski Covey Foundation has been generous to Alabama's libraries, not only in donating these books, but in awarding funds for the purchase of children's books to Cross Trails Regional Library, Cahaba Regional Library and Tuskegee-Macon County Library.

PUBLIC RELATIONS

The Public Relations Division coordinated the publicity and printing requirements of all divisions in APLS. This included taping a segment for PM Magazine which featured our services to the Blind and Physically Handicapped, the dedication ceremony for the Helen Keller statue, printing for the Summer Reading Program materials, submission of the scrapbook for the John Cotton Dana award competition, editing the APLS newsletter, Cottonboll, as well as a myriad of other publicity and public relations tasks throughout the year.

HUMANITIES RESOURCE CENTER

The Humanities Resource Center is sponsored cooperatively by the Committee for the Humanities in Alabama and the Alabama Public Library Service. In this fiscal year, the Committee awarded $59,990 for 21 months' operation for the Center program as well as an additional award of $40,000 for humanities films and publicity. Seven thousand Alabamians participated in programs using the Center's films and over 115,000 Alabamians saw the exhibits.

During its first full year of operation, the Center received positive notice for all its activities. KIOSK, the Center's newsletter, was selected by the Library Public Relations Council as a "Best Publicity" example for distribution at the annual conference of the American Library Association. Civic, social, religious and other groups are eligible to receive this award-winning newsletter that seeks to keep Alabamians aware of new humanities programming materials and ideas.

LIBRARY OPERATIONS

During the past year the Library Operations Division continued to expand the library services provided to meet the information needs of state employees and other Alabama citizens. The agency strived to maximize utilization of our resources to better serve our patrons. Highpoints included:

- -- distribution of MICROCAT, the microfiche author-title-subject catalog of our library collection, to nineteen state agencies.
- -- extending online bibliographic retrieval services to state employees as well as libraries throughout the state.
- -- initiation of automated circulation using a computer system shared with other Montgomery-area libraries.
- -- general use of the OCLC online computer interlibrary loan system to quickly obtain materials from other libraries.
- -- transferring the library resources of the Department of Pensions and Security to APLS to serve DPS staff.

Use of APLS for reference services increased.

Loans to state employees increased by 18%, with an accompanying 10% increase in questions from public libraries throughout the state. Photocopy services to fill requests increased by 118%. To meet this growing demand, APLS added 75 periodical titles and 10,167 volumes -- which represented a 16% increase in our title holdings.

The following tables graphically describe the services and resources:

SERVICES

Loans to state employees	6,048

DIVISION FOR THE BLIND AND PHYSICALLY HANDICAPPED

Services of the Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped have continued to grow. The Division circulated 70,818 talking and braille books to its 4,368 users. A service of special merit is the 2,565 volunteer hours contributed at an estimated value of $51,300 to assist the Division in providing highly personalized service. Service to additional counties was begun when subregional libraries for the blind and physically handicapped in Birmingham and Mobile transferred their active users to the Division.

AUDIOVISUAL SERVICES

The audiovisual collection of 16mm films expanded to fill the requests received from public libraries throughout Alabama. In this fiscal year, there were 13,336 circulations, which served a reported viewing audience of 1,116,435. Unfortunately, the collection of 1,832 films was unable to meet demand and 2,652 requests for bookings were rejected because films were unavailable. A concerted effort to increase the collection to meet these demands is underway.

INFORMATION SYSTEMS MANAGEMENT DIVISION

1981 was a year of continued growth in the use of automation in the provision of services by APLS. Due to automation, APLS was able to provide better and more comprehensive services to meet information needs throughout the state.

The automated circulation system which APLS shares with Montgomery area libraries became operational. A "dial-in" terminal was installed which gives APLS access to our collection and the collection of other libraries in the state using the CLSI automated circulation system. APLS became one of three libraries in the nation to install the CLSI booking module to control and circulate 16mm films via computer.

The data base for the Birmingham Public Library was converted to CLSI format using the Information Systems Management Division programs. This resulted in a savings of approximately $40,000 for conversion of the data base for their circulation system. This data base was used by the Montgomery City-County Public Library as the basis for their online circulation system.

The Automated system developed for the Division for the Blind and Physically Handicapped maintains data by computer thus freeing each Reader Advisor to offer personalized, individualized guidance to users of the Division. Due to automation, the Division was able to absorb the workload from the Birmingham and Mobile subregional libraries when they chose to close due to financial constraints. In addition, the system produces mailing labels "on call" and in shelf list order which saves time and handling in the bookstacks. Various management and statistical reports are produced, including overdue lists, mailing labels for all patrons, reader and circulation statistics by county and by Reader Advisor.

Online bibliographic data base services via dial-up computer access to the Bibliographic Retrieval Services (BRS) enhanced the reference assistance provided by APLS. Over fifty data bases are available to Alabamians through this service.

CONCLUSION

The Alabama Public Library Service has been especially proud of the accomplishments and progress made in 1981. The dedication of Alabama's public librarians in serving users, the progress made in library cooperation, the expansion of services to state government, and the increased services to the blind and physically handicapped, has made it a rewarding year.

Library services to the residents of Alabama are improving and this progress is attributable to the dedication of the librarians and other citizens who work in Alabama's libraries, serve on local boards of trustees, and give freely of their time to support libraries.

The support and concern for library service provided by the APLS Executive Board has made possible the continued progress of the state library agency. The Board members are Herndon Inge, Jr., Mildred Phillips, Kay Vowvalidis, Ann Pritchard and Sam Hughston. Their leadership and unselfish commitment to libraries are essential to the continued development of libraries in Alabama.

Several advisory committees to APLS, including the LSCA Advisory Council on Libraries and Committees on Automation, Public Relations, Legislation, Statewide Summer Reading Program, Interlibrary Loan Services, Network Development, and Blind and Physically Handicapped play important roles in the development of library services in Alabama. The committee members' contributions of time and expertise in reviewing programs bring depth of knowledge and experience that enriches the statewide focus of library services.

To the Governor and the Legislature for whom this report is prepared, your concern and commitment for public library service to the people of Alabama is appreciated. Each year, a little more progress is made and while much remains to be accomplished, your support will make it possible to continue the progress gained over the last few years.

The Alabama Public Library Service has had an exceptional year, one that would not have been possible without the cooperation of the Alabama library community, the APLS Executive Board, and a talented and dedicated staff.

Alabama Public Libraries
Statistical Reports

PUBLIC LIBRARY DEVELOPMENT

Alabama's public libraries reported their total collection at 5,505,018 volumes or 1.42 volumes per capita. Growth of the collections was steady with a decline in the per capita due to the use of 1980 Census population counts.

Public libraries are financed primarily by local government revenues. Receipts totalled $18,286,907, which adjusted for the 1981 rate of inflation of 11% represents a real increase of 4%.

Personnel costs (wages, salaries and fringe benefits) were reported as $10,473,959, a 9% increase over the previous year which did not keep pace with inflation. Expenditures as a percentage of the total remained steady for books, periodicals and non-print materials. Expenditures for capital outlay increased slightly, primarily for necessary maintenance costs.

Federal funds from the Library Services and Construction Act contributed 4% to the total expenditures. Total federal sources, including CETA, General Revenue Sharing, and grants for special programs, accounted for 11% of the total.

In fiscal year 1981, there was limited construction for public library facilities. New construction included the public library in Lincoln and the Spring Valley Branch of the Birmingham Public Library. The public libraries in Calera and Helena remodeled their buildings. Blountsville Public Library completed an addition. Total project costs reported for this construction were $1,380,945 with 95% of the funds from local governments. No state funds were available for construction.

Definitions for Public Library Statistical Tables

The annual report of the Alabama Public Library Service includes general library statistics for the year October 1, 1980, through September 30, 1981. Public library statistics are given in three tables. The first is arranged alphabetically by county of location. The numerical code under Region identifies members of regional libraries and corresponds to the regional library statistics in the last table. Single county libraries located in Autauga, Baldwin, Chambers, Cullman, Dallas, Etowah, Houston, Jefferson, Mobile, Montgomery, Russell, St. Clair, Shelby and Tuscaloosa counties report their statistics in the county listing table. Also included in the county table are reports for libraries developing countywide cooperative services: Escambia, Fayette, Marengo, Marshall, Pickens, Sumter, and Wilcox counties.

The second table provides statistics for multicounty regional library headquarters. These statistics for headquarters are not included in member library reports in the county listing.

The third table totals statistics for multiunit libraries. They are listed alphabetically by name of library. Library Services and Construction Act grant awards are listed only in Table II and in Table III.

Under Library Resources, microforms and 16mm films are included in Other Non-book Materials in the first table. These are reported separately in the regional totals.

Financial reports are from unaudited accounts. Receipts and Expenditures were not required to balance for this statistical report.

Population reports are from the 1980 Census population of the area legally served by the library.

Total staff in FTE includes all full-time and part-time staff. A full-time equivalent is computed on a thirty-five or more hours work week. Part-time staff is expressed as a decimal fraction of one.

Finances are reported in dollars. Standard rounding at $.50 was used to eliminate cents in the entries.

Local government receipts are the revenues received from all local government sources. The value of services provided by a local government, but not charged to the library treasury, is included when a local government provided the actual cost of the service for this report.

General Revenue Sharing funds are reported separately.

Other includes funds for personnel under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA).

Wages and Salaries reports include fringe benefits such as the employer's contribution to insurance, social security, retirement, etc.
